MYSTERY OF HISTORY VOLUMES I & II

Do you enjoy the drama and personalities of history more than dates and facts? If so, these books are for you! Though written for grades 4 to 8, your whole family will enjoy reading or listening to this book read aloud. We got together with another family and everyone from grade two to senior in high school listened each week as Mom read the stories (LESSONS) aloud. Filled with information, these books include little known but thrilling facts and stories.

The author, Linda Lacour Hobar, takes us on a trip back in time to meet those who have made history and to experience them ourselves. What an adventure!

Laid out in chronological order, beginning with Creation, each week has three lessons accompanied by writing, craft and cooking projects. There are tests and quizzes too. We normally ignore tests, but we enjoyed these tests too.

Can you guess that these are our very favorite history textbooks?

You learn what was going on in the world--at the same time. While one nation is in its height, another is beginning. It even covers China, India, and Africa!

Volume I covers Creation to the time of Jesus Christ. Volume II covers world history from Pentecost to the printing press. Good News: Volume III (COVERING 1450'S TO THE EARLY 1700'S) is out!!!! I can't wait to read it!
